

CREATION TRIGON

The CREATION TRIGON is a pendant with three different functions. The corner that points towards the top of the head while using, will be activated. The flat side has to be set against the skin.

Stimulation:

The first angle features a clockwise pivoting spiral. If this corner points towards the top of the head while using, it triggers a positive and accelerated growth process.

Transformation:

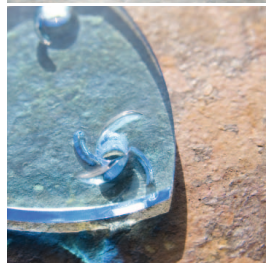

The second angle features a counterclockwise pivoting spiral. If this corner points towards the top of the head when it is worn or placed on the body, the memory is stimulated, the user will become aware of negative aspects and can dissolve them. The user recognizes what is right.

Regeneration:

The third angle features a combination of the aforementioned spirals. If this corner points towards the top of the head while using (notched part on the skin), the energies will be balanced. Regeneration on all levels is the result.
